Stationary

The goal of this project was to use InDesign to develop a stationary package for Turon Bank of Kansas that would resonate with individuals of all ages and in all walks of life. This package included note pads, business cards, thank you cards, and a brochure.

Social Media Campaign

The goal of this project was to utilize Illustrator to develop a social media campaign for a voting project. This campaign targeted college age Arizonans who are not active voters

Multipage Document

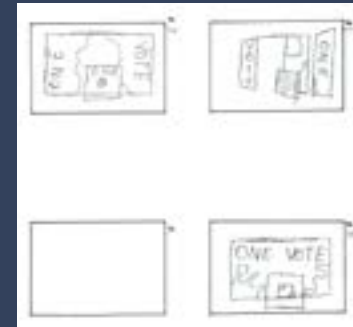

The goal of this project was to use InDesign to develop a multipage booklet on voting and how one's vote matters. This project included information about our Republic, as well as the primary parties, Democrat and Republican, in order to provide neutral information and help inform voting age individuals.

Tradeshow Package

The goal of this project was to use Illustrator to develop a tradeshow package for the ONE voting campaign previously developed. This package included a tradeshow booth design as well as various give away items.

About

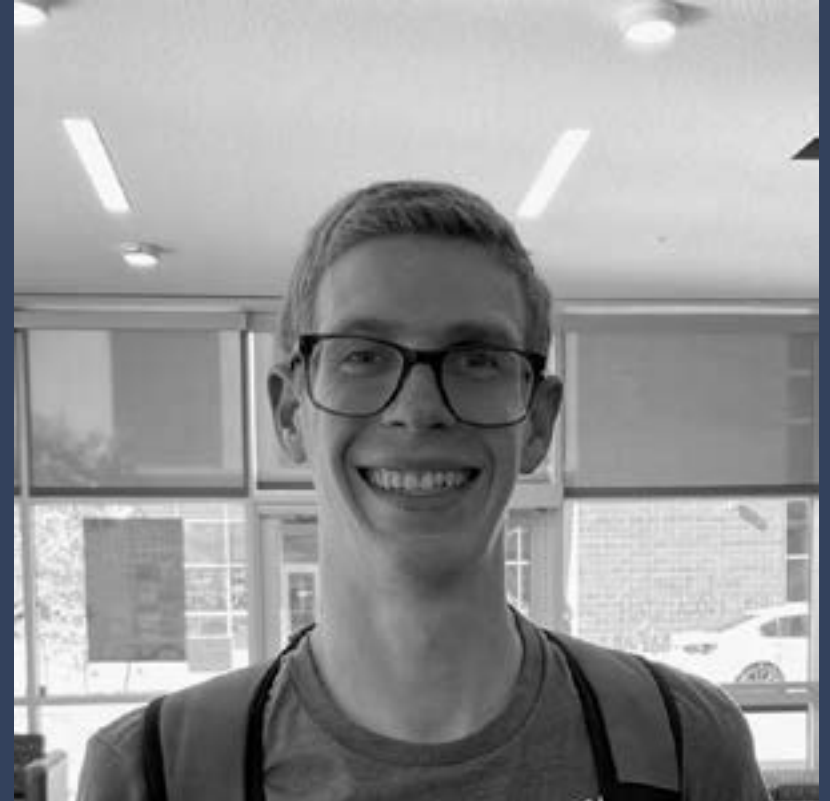

I am a student expanding my understanding of design. I have always had an eye for design and started designing websites when I was 12 years old, but I sought to improve my design work.

Since beginning my studies, I have designed logos, font-families, websites, posters, social media graphics, brands, marketing campaigns, political pieces, and more.

My Faith

I am a Christian.

My faith dictates all that I do. Whether it is deciding where to go to college, my politics, my music, or even my art. It is all driven by my faith in God and desire to follow and serve Him.

Thank You!
